Hahahaha.

Gave me a mini heart attack! I thought the quiz was easy and fair enough especially since it was open book!

Hello,

If you know those who plagiarized, why not make this just for them? I have other things to get done, including studying for your class. I showed my work for the answers I put down and submitted before the tutorial was over. This seems highly unfair to those who worked hard and did study for the quiz

Hi Yani,

I had a really late night last night (trying to beat a game boss- maybe lost track of time!) And I actually just woke up. I know you set the time limit so that you could limit plagiarism but as it stands I wasn't even awake during the time frame that this new quiz was available. Is there any way you can maybe open the quiz up for me for a short period of time? Alternatively, I can send you some of my rough work from the original quiz to sort of "prove" that I actually put the effort in to figure out these problems, and didn't simply plagiarize or copy down anything from other students. I really hope you're understanding about this! Thank you!
